I saw great risk-taking, collaboration and enthusiasm

10:10am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Pat

I saw that all groups were passionate and proud about their creations.

10:11am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Marisa

I think those Danbury people were amazing :)

10:11am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Nat

i learned that there are many ways to personalize learning and connect it to mastery based learning goals

10:11am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Pat

I saw a lot of great ideas for (student) collaboration and sharing of learning

10:11am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Laurie

Throughout the presentations I couldn't help but think how lucky the students were to have these units taught to them.

10:11am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Lis

Great work from different content areas. We don't get the opportunity to see this enough!

10:12am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Ev

Inspired by conversations with colleagues in different disciplines

10:12am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Ber

It was really nice to hear that people are trying new things even though they don't know what the outcome will be.

10:12am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Jacky

I saw a lot of great ideas from other content areas that I can apply to my area of teaching

10:12am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Nat

I love how teachers created personalized learning that spanned the whole year!

10:12am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Barbara presentations I couldn't help Throughout the but think how lucky the students were to have these units taught to them. I am jealous!

10:12am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Lis

I was inspired by the creativity and the focus on what is best for students – not just what teachers want them to do

10:12am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Pat

I saw a lot of ways for students of all levels to succeed

10:12am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by sg

I can see how these tasks will increase student engagement through personal interest...very powerful

10:12am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by jared

It was great to learn from other educators. I loved the ideas presented that I can now take back to my classrooms.

10:13am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by JV

I saw many examples of students connecting to their genuine curiosities with opportunities to share their learning in various mediums.

10:13am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Christine

It was great to hear peers and see them demonstrate their passion for what they do

10:13am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by JP

It was great to see such engaging units. It is clear that the students will be engaged and encouraged to direct their own learning.

10:13am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Lane

I loved the idea of the playlists being tools that students could refer to throughout their high school career.

10:13am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Lis

It was great to get ideas for an upcoming unit

10:13am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Christina

I loved all the unique perspectives that people shared

10:13am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by JB

I noticed that everyone was trying to personalize learning and it's ok to take different approaches

10:14am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by L

Inspired to explore more of the professional practice referenced in the presentations: Task Rotation, Lucy Caulkins

10:14am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by keleldu

great problem solving ideas for commonly anticipated issues

10:14am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by jared

I learned a lot of different strategies for how we can create "Choice" activities that allow for self discovery.

10:14am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Marisa

I liked how teachers were able to create projects that spanned multiple disciplines and connected science and social studies.

10:14am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Emina

I am inspired to attempt other subjects in my first grade classroom.

10:15am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Lis

I learned so many strategies to make the personalized performance tasks more user-friendly.

10:15am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Ila

I was inspired to continue to take more risks and restructure lessons.

10:16am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Marisa

Where is the time to do this – to meet, create, collaborate, reflect?

10:28am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Jacky

Can this fit in with common curriculum? Assessments?

10:31am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Laurie

How can it fit when we are obligated to do common curriculum and common assessments?

10:33am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Ber

I share the same concerns about common curriculum and common assessments.

10:38am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by sg

Management: time worries. providing students enough time to work through the process..curriculum/pacing

10:39am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by jared

How do we change the current systems & structures in place to bring in Mastery Learning?

10:41am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Jacky

Management: Time to produce quality units that focus on personalization based on standards.

10:44am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Ila

Management: Time- where to I find time to let students explore and still meet my curriculum needs.

10:45am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Ila

Fear: Student buy in. If they are not passionate about a topic, they may not produce quality work.

10:46am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Ila

Management: Student pacing – Challenge: changing the mindset of the student to not just work to "complete" the activity.

10:46am, Fri, Dec 11, 2015 by Marisa

Fear: Some students are not motivated even when given the elements of choice.
